

GERMANY IS TOLD HOW SHE CAN HAVE PEACE

PROPOSE BIG BOND ISSUES BY THIS CITY

City Council Held Busy Session Tuesday Evening.

"It never rains but it pours" and this time the elements on the outside were engaged in a battle royal, the city council chamber was far from being a calm and peaceful center last evening.

One citizen and tax payer attended one of the busiest sessions of the new council and one in which a great amount of business was introduced, one not finished. The most important matter to come before the council was the proposition of calling a special election to vote on a special bond issue, but after much deliberation it was decided to instruct the city attorney to investigate certain laws and report at the next meeting.

Commissioner Slothower of the department of public health and safety prepared a motion to be presented to the council which read as follows:

"I move that the city attorney draft an ordinance calling for a special election to vote upon an issue of bonds for the purpose of raising funds to pay the city's share of local improvements and that the funds so raised not exceed $15,000 per year and for a period of time not to exceed eight years."

The motion was tabled until the next meeting with the consent of the Commissioner. The Commissioners being doubtful as to certain legal phases and desiring to have an opinion from the city attorney before taking any final action. It was made quite plain that some relief must be obtained in order to meet certain demands. All of the members of the council favored the voting of a bond issue in order to meet the deficiency, the conducting of a brief educational campaign for the purpose of acquainting the citizens with the condition of affairs and submitting

COLLINS CASE ON TRIAL THIS MORN

Judge Heard in the Circuit court this morning took under advisement the case of George Collins, Dixon negro, charged with bootlegging. Attorney John E. Brown appeared for the defendant. Mrs. Carrie Rumley and husband, who were chief witnesses in the case against Collins, were brought to Dixon yesterday afternoon by Turnkey Joe Miller from Havana, where they were taken in custody. Both had left Dixon after appearing before the grand jury a few weeks ago, but through the activity of the State's Attorney and Sheriff's offices were located and brought back to testify this morning when the case came to trial.

Collins appeared in court this morning, waiving trial by jury and entering a plea of not guilty. After the testimony of several witnesses had been taken, Judge Heard took the matter under advisement until 9:30 tomorrow morning.

CHURCH LEAGUE TO OPEN ON MAY 19TH

The church baseball league will open its season on May 19th with a game between the Lutheran and Christian church teams.

This was decided last evening at a meeting of the executive committee which adopted a schedule as well as rules for games in the twilight league. The final game of the season will be on August 29.

There are six teams in the league. They are:

Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Catholic, Christian and Episcopal. Each team will play 15 games or one each week.

The games will be played on the brown shoe company field, which has been offered the Y. M. C. A. for the use of the league. The schedule is printed in full elsewhere in this issue.

MEET TOMORROW TO ARRANGE RECEPTION

Charles E. Miller, who was last evening appointed chairman of the committee to arrange for the big public reception to Company G on its return home, has called a meeting of the main committee for tomorrow evening, at which time plans for the affair will be outlined and sub-committees will be named. It is planned to make the reception a Lee county affair, since there are men from all parts of the county in the company, and all of the citizens of the county will be invited to participate.

Congress is Called to Meet May 19

Official Summary of Peace Treaty

Following is the official government summary of the treaty of peace presented to Germany today at Versailles:

PREAMBLE NAMES FIRST PARTIES.

"Preamble. The preamble names as parties of the one part the United States, the British empire, France, Italy and Japan, described as the five allied and associated powers, and Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, China, Cuba, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, the Hedjaz, Honduras, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Czechoslovakia and Uruguay, who with the five above are described as the allied and associated powers, and on the other part, Germany.

Armistice Makes Negotiations Possible.

It states that: bearing in mind that on the request of the then Imperial German government an armistice was granted on November 11, 1918, by the five allied and associated powers in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded with her, and whereas, the allied and associated powers being equally desirous that the war in which they were successfully involved directly or indirectly and which originated in the declaration of war by Austria Hungary on July 28, 1914, against Serbia, the declaration of war by Germany against Russia on August 1, 1914, and against France on August 3, 1914, and in the invasion of Belgium, should be replaced by a firm, just and durable peace, the plenipotentiaries (having communicated their full powers found in good and due form have agreed as follows:

"From the coming into force of the present treaty the state of war will terminate. From the moment and subject to the provisions of this treaty official relations with Germany, and with each of the German states, will be resumed by the allied and associated powers.

SECTION I. LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

"Section 1. League of Nations. The covenant of the league of nations constitutes section one of the peace treaty, which places upon the league many specific duties in addition to its general duties. It may question Germany at any time for a violation of the neutralized zone east of the Rhine as a threat against the world's peace. It will appoint three of the five members of the Saar commission, oversee its regime, and carry out the plebiscite. It will appoint the high commissioner of Danzig, guarantee the independence of the free city and arrange for treaties between Danzig and Germany and Poland. It will work out the mandatory system to be applied to the former German colonies, and act as a final court in part of the plebiscites of the Belgian-German frontier, and in disputes as to the Kiel canal, and decide certain of the economic and financial problems. An international conference on labor is to be held in October under its direction, and another on the international control of ports, waterways and railways is foreseen.

Who Can Be Members.

"Membership. The members of the league will be the signatories of the covenant and other states invited to accede, who must lodge a declaration of accession without reservation within two months. A new state, dominion, or colony may be admitted provided its admission is agreed by two-thirds of the assembly. A state may withdraw upon giving two years' notice, if it has fulfilled all its international obligations.

SECTION 2. SECRETARIAT.

"Section 2. Secretariat. A permanent secretariat will be established at the seat of the league which will be at Geneva.

"Assembly. The assembly will consist of representatives of the members of the league, and will meet at stated intervals. Voting will be by states. Each member will have one vote and not more than three representatives.

How Council Will Be Formed.

"Council. The council will consist of representatives of the five great allied powers, together with representatives of four members selected by the assembly from time to time; it may cooperate with additional states and will meet at least once a year. Members not represented will be invited to send a representative when questions affecting their interests are discussed. Voting will be by states. Each state will have one vote and not more than one representative. Decision taken by the assembly and council must be unanimous except in regard to procedure, and in certain cases specified in the covenant and in the treaty, where decisions will be by a majority.

Reduction of Armaments Provided.

"Armaments. The council will formulate plans for a reduction of armaments for consideration and adoption. These plans will be revised every ten years. Once they are with any party to the dispute which complies with it; if a member fails to carry out the award, the council will propose the necessary measures. The council will formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice to determine international disputes or to give advisory opinions. Members who do not submit their case to arbitration must accept the jurisdiction of the assembly. If the council, less the parties to the dispute, is unanimously agreed upon the rights of it, the members agree that they will not go to war with any party to the dispute which complies with its recommendations. In this case, a recommendation by the assembly adopted, no member must exceed the armaments fixed without the concurrence of the council. All members will exchange full information as to armaments and programs, and a permanent commission will advise the council on military and naval questions.

How War Shall Be Prevented.

"Preventing of War. Upon any war, or threat of war, the council will meet to consider what common action shall be taken. Members are pledged to submit matters of dispute to arbitration or inquiry and not to resort to war until three months after the award. Members agree to carry out an arbitral award, and not to go to war concerned in by all its members represented on the council and a simple majority of the rest, less the parties to the dispute, will have the force of a unanimous recommendation by the council. In either case if the necessary agreement cannot be secured the members reserve the right to take such steps as may be necessary for the maintenance of right and justice. Members resorting to war in disregard of the covenant will immediately be debarred from all intercourse with other members. The council will in such cases consider what military or naval action can be taken by the league collectively for the protection of the covenants and will afford facilities to members cooperating in this enterprise.

All Treaties Must Be Registered.

"Validity of Treaties. All treaties of international engagements concluded after the institute of the league will be registered with the secretariat and published. The assembly may from time to time advise members to reconsider treaties which have become inapplicable or involve danger of peace. The covenant abrogates all obligations between members inconsistent with its terms, but nothing in it shall effect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe doctrine for securing the maintenance of peace.

Small Nations Protected.

"The mandatory system. The tutelage of nations not yet able to stand by themselves will be entrusted to advanced nations who are best fitted to undertake it. The covenant recognizes three different stages of development requiring different kinds of mandates. Communities like those belonging to the Turkish empire which can be provisionally recognized as independent, subject to advice and assistance from a mandatory in whose selection they would be allowed a voice. Communities like those of Central Africa, to be administered by the mandatory under conditions generally approved by the members of the league where equal opportunities for trade will be allowed to all members; certain abuses, such as trade in slaves, arms and liquor, will be prohibited and the construction of military and naval bases and the introduction of compulsory military training will be disallowed. Other communities, such as southwest Africa and the South Pacific Islands, but administered under the laws of the mandatory as integral portions of its territory. In every case the mandatory will render an annual report, and the degree its authority will be defined.

"SURE AIN'T NO PLACE FOR ME," THINKS STARKS

Taken Into Custody By U. S. as He Leaves Jail.

Sam Starks, colored, completed a sentence of 150 days in the county jail today on a charge of selling liquor in anti-saloon territory but when he walked out of the cell room expecting to return to his resort near the cement plant, where his wife has been staying, he stepped out of the corridor and into the office where United States Deputy Marshal Gallagher of Freeport confronted him.

"Is this Sam Starks?" queried the government officer.

"Yes sir, that's me," responded Starks.

With this the marshal drew forth from his pocket a federal warrant charging Starks with unlawfully carrying on the business of a retail dealer without having paid the special tax as required by law. The sudden service of the warrant came as a blow to the prisoner who has been counting the hours of the last few weeks when he would be able to step out from behind the bars of his cell and enjoy the sunlight and fresh air once more.

There was no preliminary discussion. Deputy Marshal Gallagher notifying his prisoner that he would be taken to Freeport at once where he would appear before United States Commissioner Vance.

Starks will probably be held to the federal grand jury for trial and if found guilty faces a sentence of from six to nine months in the Bridewell at Chicago. He had just finished a second sentence in Lee county for the unlawful sale of liquor and the federal authorities took him in charge. Starks left with the deputy marshal on the north bound Illinois Central train this morning for Freeport.

33rd Will Sail for Home Friday

Brest, May 6.—The 33d division will start for home on Friday. Ten days more should find them all in the United States. The men in the outfit feel like kids the night before Christmas.

Maj. Gen. George Bell, Jr., and headquarters of the division with headquarters of the 66th infantry brigade and the 132nd infantry will embark on Friday on the Mount Vernon, the ship which brought them over. It is going to be the most pleasant voyage any of them ever took.

How Chicago is going to receive them is the question half of these keen-eyed veterans, who gazed fearlessly over the transom of hell, are asking. Maj. Gen. Bell would like to lead the divisional parade.

WANT RECORD OF WOUNDED SOLDIERS

For the purpose of compiling an official and permanent list of all Dixon and Lee county boys who were wounded, gassed or injured while in the service, either the army or navy, during the war, relatives or the boys themselves are asked to send the names to this office as soon as possible.

The information desired is the name, rank, branch of service, nature of injury, home address and next of kin.

It is important this list be compiled quickly and correctly, and all discharged men or their relatives or the relatives of boys who are still in the service are asked to comply with this request as soon as possible.

GRAND EXALTED RULER OF ELKS COMING JUNE 9

Will Attend Burning of Bonds on Dixon Building.

Attorney George S. Dixon of this city, late yesterday afternoon received a communication from Bruce A. Campbell of East St. Louis, Grand Exalted Ruler of E. P. O. Elks, in which the writer stated that he would be in Dixon on the evening of Monday, June 9th to attend the ceremony at the Elks' club in celebration of the burning of the bonds. He will spend the afternoon of that date in Sterling as a guest of the Elks lodge of that city coming to Dixon in the evening.

Several weeks ago a special committee composed of George S. Dixon, chairman, Charles E. Miller, Louis Pitcher, George W. Smith and R. W. Thompson was named to take complete charge of this program. The evening of June 9 will be the first regular meeting of the Dixon lodge of Elks for the month and the program will be carried out following the regular lodge business session.

Expect Many Guests.

The matter will be in the hands of the house committee who will work with the special committee in arranging the program for this occasion. A banquet is to be served following the regular business session at which time the bonds will be cremated. The entertainment committee will than have charge of the remainder of the program. Officers of Elks lodges throughout the state are expected to be present on this occasion which promises to eclipse anything of a social kind ever undertaken by the lodge.

A special meeting of the committee in charge of the burning of the bonds was held at the club parlors last evening. Another meeting has been called for Friday evening at which time final plans will be decided upon.

WILSON CANNOT BE PRESENT AT START SESSION

Call Comes By Cable To Tumulty—Much Business Up.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 7.—President Wilson issued a call by cable today for a special session of congress to meet on Monday, May 19.

Secretary Tumulty, in making the announcement, said it would be impossible of course, for the president to be here on the opening day. The date fixed for the special session was much earlier than democratic leaders had expected.

White House officials said that in naming an early date for the session, President Wilson was guided largely by the advice of Secretary Glass as to the necessity of passing annual appropriation measures which failed in the closing days of the last session.

Get Ready for Treaty

There was no information at the white house either as to the probable time of the return of the president from France or the submission of the peace treaty to the senate, but some administration leaders believed the president had called the extra session earlier than had been anticipated in order that congress might perfect its organization and dispose of the more important appropriation measures before the treaty was ready for consideration.

Republicans of the house virtually have completed their organization, but the senate has done no organization work and this probably will occupy its attention for the first week of the special session. The house, however, can be considering the appropriation measures in the meantime. The supply bill that failed in the last congress will be introduced anew, but the secretary of the treasury has decided it will not be necessary for the government departments to submit new estimates.

G. O. P. To Meet May 17

Soon after the president's proclamation was made public Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, issued a call for a republican conference to be held May 14 for the purpose of perfecting an organization in the senate and Representative Mondell, who will be republican floor leader at the coming session, announced that a conference of republican house members would be held on May 17.

TERMS PRESENTED AT VERSAILLES TO MAKE HER IMPOTENT NATION

German Army, Fleet and Fortifications Are Doomed—Future Commerce Jeopardized By Rigid Restrictions—All Resources Which Helped Her in Greatest War in History Pass to the Victors—Twenty-seven Nations Dictate Provisions of Treaty.

FRANCE PROTECTED BY SPECIAL DEFENSE PACT

BULLETIN.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Versailles, May 7.—Germany today was told the terms upon which the allied and associated powers will make peace with her.

These terms were contained in a treaty some 80,000 words in length which was handed to the German plenipotentiaries at a memorable assemblage here attended by the delegates of the 27 nations which are parties to the peace pact.

The terms of the treaty spell the end of Germany as a military power. She is deprived of virtually all her fleet, her army is cut down to nominal dimensions and she is sharply restricted along lines through which she might seek to work militarily to rehabilitate herself. Economically, also, the future course of Germany is hedged about with stipulations intended to insure her ability to pay the indemnity demanded by the allies, but to prevent her from exploiting her old-time resources as a strangling competitor of the nations about her which she overran and devastated during the war.

SECURITY TO FRANCE IS PLEDGED.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

New York, May 7.—An official summary of the peace treaty delivered to the German delegates at Versailles by the representatives of the associated powers, was made public here today by the committee on public information. It follows:

"In addition to the securities afforded in the treaty of peace the president of the United States has pledged himself to propose to the senate of the United States and the prime minister of Great Britain has pledged himself to propose to the parliament of Great Britain in engagement, subject to the approval of the council of the league of nations, to come immediately to the assistance of France in case of unprovoked attack by Germany."

History of Paris Peace Conference

By Associated Press Leased Wire

The treaty handed to the Germans today at Versailles is the result of the work of the representatives of the allied and associated powers, arrayed against Germany, who convened officially on January 18, less than four months ago. The time between the armistice, Nov. 11 and Jan. 18 was occupied in preparing claims and reports in the selection of delegates and in their travel to Paris.

Wilson Sets Precedent

President Wilson and the American delegates sailed from New York on Dec. 4, 1918, and when the president set foot at Brest on Dec. 13 he was the first American president to visit Europe while in office. The intervening month before the opening of the conference was spent by the president in becoming acquainted with allied statesmen and in visiting England, Italy and parts of the matter finally to their judgment at a special election. Final action on this matter will be taken at the next meeting on Tuesday evening of next week.

Favors Bigger Salaries.

Commissioner Stohower made a plea for an increase in the wages of the city employees and in addressing the council said:

"Those of the city's employees who are receiving salary monthly and are providing for families are having a hard time making both ends meet. It is truly a sad condition of affairs when a city the size of Dixon cannot afford to pay its employees a comfortable living wage and any man who is keeping a family and receiving no more than $90 per month should have more money."

In answer to this statement, Commissioner Palmer added: "Let us raise funds before we raise salaries." It was quite evident that this subject could not be threshed out at this session and the discussion led to the condition of the Galena avenue bridge.

Bridge Condition.

Commissioner Campbell notified the council that complaints had been registered with him relative to the condition of the bridge. One of the main rods at the north end of the bridge is broken, thus weakening the structure and the remainder of the structural steel work is rusted badly and the bridge is badly in need of a coat of paint. Mayor Smith added to this, the condition of the floor of the bridge which he termed, "a corrugated floor." After a lengthy discussion, a motion was presented and unanimously carried providing that the city secure the service of an expert bridge engineer to come to Dixon, thoroughly inspect the structure and report to the council the repairs necessary to make it perfectly safe for all manner of traffic. The proposition was favorably discussed by no final action, pending the report of an expert engineer to determine the condition of the bridge.

Company G Reception.

Mayor Mark D. Smith presented a list of names of citizens suggested by him to take charge of the reception and celebration to be held here upon the return of Company G. The council unanimously concurred in his selection which names the following committee: Chairman, Charles E. Miller; Louis Pitcher, Herbert W. Harms, Geo. Dixon and Frank Cahill. Additional committees will be named to assist these men in perfecting the program of reception and entertainment to follow.

The mayor presented another motion where Dixon by its commissioners recommend that the city of Dixon show their appreciation of the many times gratuitous service of the Dixon Municipal band by subscribing liberally to a concert fund for the season. The motion was unanimously adopted by the other members of the council.

Depot Ave Fountain.

The replacing of the drinking fountain for horses in Dementtown was introduced for the first time to the new council and final action taken at once. Following a brief discussion, Commissioner Campbell presented a motion which was unanimously adopted, providing that the new drinking fountain or water tank be placed at the original location on Seventh street and Depot avenue and that the work be carried on under the supervision of Commissioner John Armstrong of the department of streets.

Property owners residing on Noble avenue north of Second street, have had a petition before the council for some time, requesting extension of water mains. This petition was read before the old council and was again presented last evening. Commissioner Armstrong was instructed to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting at which time some definite action will be taken.

The annual report of the City Clerk, Ex-officio City Collector, City Treasurer and Treasurer of the Oakwood Cemetery Endowment Fund were presented to the council and referred to a special board of auditors who are to be named by the commission. Two applications were presented by W. R. Thompson, local representative of the Studebaker agency and Roy Baron, asking permission to erect overhead signs. The applications were referred to the commissioner of public health and safety for investigation.

The annual audit will be made by W. L. Frye and J. B. Lennon.

OVERHOLSER WON STERLING CONTEST

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Sterling, Ill., May 7.—The recount of votes cast at the city election here on April 15 shows that James P. Overholser, former commissioner, was chosen mayor of the city by a majority of 21, instead of the honor going to N. G. Van Sant, who assumed office a week ago on the face of the unofficial count which gave him three majority. In the recount in the Circuit court at Morrison yesterday the ballots were opened in the presence of the court, an error of ten in the tabulation of the vote in the second precinct was discovered, Overholser gaining that number. The ruling of the court on contested ballots gave Mr. Overholser increased majority, the final count, as approved by the court being:

Overholser, 1506.

Van Sant, 1485.

The city council met last evening in regular session, but neither Mr. Overholser nor Mr. Van Sant were present, and according to the commissioners adjourned until Thursday evening, when it is expected Mr. Overholser will assume the office to which he was elected.

BRIDGE AT STERLING FELL INTO TAIL RACE

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Sterling, Ill., May 7.—High water in the tail race on the north side of the river here yesterday afternoon undermined the south abutment of the bridge across the race and it collapsed into the water, the accident happening just a few minutes after a team and heavy load of produce from one of the factories had crossed. Fortunately there are a number of foot bridge across the race and workers in the factories on the south side were able to get across over them. The bridge had just been repaired, new girders and floor being put in.

Former Russ Envoy to Germany Killed

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Copenhagen, May 7.—When Polish forces captured Vilna, recently they seized and shot Adolph Joffe, the former Russian bolshevik ambassador at Berlin, according to Polish newspapers received here.

Adolph Joffe was first chairman of the Russian peace delegation at Brest-Litovsk and after the signing of the treaty was appointed bolshevik minister to Germany. He was received in Berlin by the German imperial government last May and was in Berlin when the revolution occurred. The new German government expelled Joffe late in November. He returned to Berlin in mid-December and was said to have brought money to aid the spartacists in their activities against the government. Joffe was finally expelled from the German capital in January and since then had been in Russia.

Official Tests Give Brunswick Tires First Place

Here Is the Evidence:

Dr. T. A. Dwyer, Treas.,
The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., 35 West 32nd St.,
New York City.

My dear Mr. Dwyer:

1. No doubt you will be somewhat surprised to hear that I have received my discharge and expect to be back in New York in the near future.

2. The following information will probably be of interest to you.

3. While I was serving as expert for the Government on the Motor Transport Board in Washington, D.C., I had charge of the examination and tests of all the different pneumatic tires of "Standard Makes" at Camp Halibut, Md. Altogether there were three tests:

1. Road Test

2. Chemical Test

3. Overseas Test

4. The Road Test was very severe, being over some of the worst roads in Maryland with an exceptionally heavy load of merchandise. This test proved that your pneumatic tire had gone ten thousand miles before hitting the fabric.

5. The Chemical Test was scientific, the tire being put into a tank of very strong acids and salts and kept therein for forty-eight hours. This test also proved your tire superior to all others. After the Chemical Test it was put into an oven and baked and the results showed that your rubber was properly cured.

6. The Overseas Test is the most interesting and severest of them all. The tire is put on a spin-wheel with an inner tube with a hundred pound air pressure and spun around on a sort of a Cam Shaft at a terrific rate of speed, hitting all kinds of broken metal and glass, tacks and nails, and in fact several sorts of sharp edges that would penetrate through the rubber and fabric. It affords me great pleasure to inform you that the Brunswick tire came out away ahead for endurance and service of all the other tires, which were up for examination before the board, of which I was chairman.

7. All the above experiments required a new pneumatic tire of each make for each test, and the tires were bought at different points throughout the United States, so that the manufacturers would not get special made tires to put over on us.

With best regards to Mr. C. P. Miller and yourself and wishing you a prosperous New Year, I am

Sincerely yours,
T. A. Dwyer

Peking, Tuesday, May 6.—(Delayed.)—The Chinese cabinet at a meeting today decided to instruct the Chinese delegates in Paris not to sign a peace treaty assigning the German rights in Shanghai to the Japanese.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, May 7.—As a basis of resuming participation in the peace negotiations Premier Orlando accepted a proposal that Italy administer Fiume as a mandatory of the league of nations until 1923, after which Fiume will revert to Italian sovereignty.

During the four years of Italian administration a harbor for the Jugo Slave will be built at a port a few miles lower down the Adriatic coast. The harbor will have railroad communication with Agram and other cities.

Italy, it is understood, also is prepared to make sacrifices of some of her other claims on the Dalmatian coast. The proposal which induced the Italians to return to Paris was made to them by Camille Barrere, the French ambassador at Rome.

International bureaus and commissions already established will be placed under the league, as well as those to be established in the future.

Amendment to Pact

Amendments to covenants will take effect when ratified by the council and by a majority of the assembly.

New German Boundaries

Boundaries of Germany. Germany cedes to France Alsace-Lorraine, 5600 square miles, to be southwest and to Belgium two small districts between Luxembourg and Holland, totalling 989 square miles. She also cedes to Poland the southern tip of Silesia beyond and including Oppeln, most of Posen, and West Prussia, 27,686 square miles, East Prussia being isolated from the main body by a part of Poland. She loses sovereignty over the northernmost tip of East Prussia, 40 square miles north of the river Memel, and the internationalized areas about Danzig, 729 square miles, and the basin of the Saar, 738 square miles, between the western border of the Rhenish Palatinate of Luxembourg and the southeast corner of Luxembourg. The Danzig area consists of the V between the Nogat and Vistula rivers made by a V by the addition of a similar V on the west including the city of Danzig. The southeastern third of East Prussia and the area between East Prussia and the Vistula north of latitude 53 degrees 3 minutes is to have its nationality determined by popular vote, 5755 square miles, as is to be the case in part of Silesia, 2787 square miles.

SECTION 3, BELGIUM

Section 3.—Belgium—Germany is to consent to the abrogation of the treaties of 1839 by which Belgium was established as a neutral state, and to agree in advance to any convention with which the allied and associated powers may determine to replace them. She is to recognize the full sovereignty of Belgium over the contested territory of Morenet and over part of Prussian Moresnet, and to renounce in favor of Belgium all rights of the circles of Eupen and Malmédy, the inhabitants of which are to be entitled within six months to protest against this change of sovereignty either in whole or in part, the final decision to be reserved to the league of nations. A commission is to settle the details of the frontier, and various regulations for change of nationality are laid down.

Luxembourg Freed.

Luxembourg, Germany, renounces her various treaties and conventions with the grand duchy of Luxembourg, recognizes that it ceased to be a part of the German Zollverein from January first, last, renounces all right of exploitation of the railroads, adheres to the abrogation of its neutrality, and accepts in advance any international agreement as to it, reached by the allied and associated powers.

Rhine Bank Unprotected.

Left bank of the Rhine. As provided in the military clause, Germany will not maintain any fortifications or armed forces less than fifty kilometers to the east of the Rhine, hold any manœuvres, nor maintain any works to facilitate mobilization. In case of violation, "she shall be regarded as committing a hostile act against the powers who sign the present treaty and as intending to disturb the peace of the world."

"By virtue of the present treaty, Germany shall be bound to respond to any request for an explanation which the council of the league of nations may think it necessary to address to her."

France Gets Alsace-Lorraine.

Alsace-Lorraine. After recognition of the moral obligation to repair the wrong done in 1871 by Germany to France and the people of Alsace-Lorraine, the territories ceded to Germany by the treaty of Frankfurt are restored to France with their frontiers as before the signing of the armistice, and to be free of all public debts.

Citizenship is regulated by detailed provisions distinguishing those who are immediately restored to full French citizenship, those who have to make formal applications therefor, and those for whom naturalization is open after three years. The last named class includes German residents in Alsace-Lorraine, as distinguished from those who acquire the position of Alsace-Lorraines as defined in the treaty. All public property and all private property of German ex-sovereigns passes to French without payment or credit. France is substituted for Germany as regards ownership of the railroads and rights over concessions of tramways. The Rhine bridges pass to France with the obligation for their upkeep.

Germany Gets Products

For five years manufactured products of Alsace-Lorraine will be admitted to Germany free of duty to a total amount not exceeding in any year the average of the three years preceding the war and textile materials may be imported from Germany to Alsace-Lorraine and re-exported free of duty. Contracts for electric power from the right bank must be continued for ten years.

France Administers Ports

For seven years with possible extension to ten, the ports of Kehae and Strassbourg shall be administered as a single unit by a French administrator appointed and supervised by the central Rhine commission. Property rights will be safeguarded in both ports and equality of treatment as respects traffic assured the nationals, vessels and goods of every country. Contracts between Alsace and Lorraines and Germans are maintained save for France's right to amend on grounds of public interest. Judgments of courts hold in certain classes of cases, while in others a judicial exequatur still required. Political condemnations during the war are null and void and the obligation to repay war fines is established as in other parts of allied territory.

Various clauses adjust the general provisions of the treaty to the special conditions of Alsace-Lorraine, certain matters of execution being left to conventions to be made between France and Germany.

France Gets The Saar.

The Saar. In compensation for the destruction of coal mines for northern France and as payment on account of reparation, Germany cedes to France full ownership of the coal mines of the Saar basin with their subsidiaries, accessories and facilities. Their value will be established by the reparation committee and credited against that account. The French rights will be governed by German law in force at the armistice excepting war legislation France replacing the present owners whom Germany undertakes to indemnify. France will continue to furnish the present proportion of coal for local needs and contribute in just proportion to local taxes.

The basin extends from the frontier of Lorraine as re-annexed to France north as far as St. Wendel, including on the west the valley of the Saar as far as Saarholzach and on the east the town of Homburg.

Commission to Govern.

In order to secure the rights and welfare of the population and to guarantee to France entire freedom in working the mines, the territory will be governed by a commission appointed by the league of nations and consisting of five members, one French, one a native inhabitant of the Saar and three representing three different countries other than France and Germany. The league will appoint a member of the commission as chairman to act as executive of the commission. The commission will have all powers of government formerly belonging to the German empire. Prussia and Bavaria will administer the railroads and other public services and have full power to interpret the treaty clauses.

LOWDEN TO ASK LEGISLATURE TO PROBE PULLMAN

Seeks Information of Attempt to Bribe Equalizers.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., May 7.—Governor Lowden was preparing a message to the legislature this morning, recommending the appointment of a joint legislative committee to investigate charges that the Pullman company had approached member of the board of equalization on matters relating to assessment of their property.

It was declared yesterday before legislative revenue commissions by William H. Malone, president of the board, that members had been threatened with the loss of their positions if the Pullman company assessment was increased.

Governor Loyden is the son-in-law of the late George M. Pullman of Chicago. It was stated at his office today that he resigned as a director of the Pullman company before coming to Springfield to assume his duties as governor. He now is said to have no connection with the company.

PEACE SUMMARY

Germany will today receive the terms of peace from the nations arrayed against her in the world's greatest war. This event, which falls on the fourth anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania, marks one of the historic dates in the giant conflict. It comes 177 days after the last shot of the war was fired on Nov. 11, 1918.

22 Allies Present

The German delegates, when they enter the dining room of the hotel Trianon at Versailles at about 3 o'clock this afternoon will find present the representatives of 22 nations. When plans for the presentation of the treaty were decided upon some time ago, it was determined that only thirteen nations would have delegates present, it being held that only those nations which had taken an efficient part in the fighting should witness the ceremony. It was decided yesterday however that envoys of China, Siam, Cuba, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Haiti, Panama, Liberia and Honduras should also be admitted.

Orlando Returns

The complete representation of the allied powers was assured this morning by the arrival in Paris from Rome of Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy.

At a secret plenary session held at the French foreign office yesterday afternoon a summary of the treaty was read. There were a few objections, France, Portugal and China voicing protests as to particular clauses, but it is not believed that these objections will affect the procedure decided upon in laying the treaty before the German plenipotentiaries.

Wilhelm Must Pay

One of the most interesting features of the convention was added to it yesterday when a clause arraigning former Emperor William for "a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties" was attached to the treaty, together with a provision for his trial by a tribunal composed of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

Steps have been taken to meet any refusal on the part of Germany to sign the treaty. Complete economic isolation is one of the principal weapons to be used by the allied and associated governments.

The local courts will continue, but subject to the commission. Existing German legislation will remain the basis of the law, but the commission may make modifications after consulting a local representative assembly which it will organize. It will have the taxing power, but for local purposes only. New taxes must be approved by this assembly. Labor legislation will consider the wishes of the local labor organizations and the labor program of the league. French and other labor may be freely utilized, the former being free to belong to French unions. All rights acquired as to pensions and social insurance will be maintained by Germany and the Saar commission. There will be no military service, but only a local gendarmerie to preserve order.

People Keep Assemblies

The people will preserve their local assemblies, religious liberties, schools and language, but may vote only for local assemblies. They will keep their present nationality except so far as individuals may change it. Those wishing to leave will have every facility with respect to their property. The territory will form no part of the French customs system with no export tax on coal and metallurgical products going to Germany nor on German products entering the basin and for five years no import duties on products of the basin going to Germany or German products coming into the basin for local consumption. French money may circulate without restriction.

Plebiscite After 15 Years

After fifteen years a plebiscite will be held by communes to ascertain the desires of the population as to continuance of the existing regime under the league of nations union with France or union with Germany. The right to vote will belong to all inhabitants over 20 residing therein at the signature. Taking into account the opinions thus expressed, the league will decide the ultimate sovereignty. In any portion restored to Germany the German government must buy out the French mines at an appraised valuation. If the price is not paid within six months thereafter this portion passes finally to France. If Germany buys back the mines, the league will determine how much of the coal shall be annually sold to France.

SECTION 4, AUSTRIA.

Section Four—German-Austria. Germany recognizes the total independence of German-Austria in the boundaries traced.

Techecho Slovakia. Germany recognizes the entire independence of the Techecho Slovak state, including the autonomous territory of the Ruthenians south of the Carpathians, and accepts the frontier of this state as to be determined, which in the case of the German frontier shall follow the frontier of Bohemia in nineteen hundred and fourteen. The usual stipulations as to acquisition and change of nationality follow.

Poland Gets Silesia.

Poland. Germany cedes to Poland the greater part of upper Silesia, Posen and the province of West Prussia on the left bank of the Vistula. A field boundary commission of seven—five representing the allied and associated powers and one each representing Poland and Germany—shall be constituted within fifteen days of the peace to delimit this boundary. Such special provisions as are necessary to protect racial, linguistic or religious minorities and to protect freedom of transit and equitable treatment of commerce of other nations shall be laid down in a subsequent treaty between the five allied and associated powers and Poland.

Prussian Frontiers.

East Prussia. The southern and the eastern frontier of East Prussia as Sueding (word obscure) Poland is to be fixed by plebiscites the first in the region of Allenstein from the southern frontier of East Prussia and the northern frontier of Regierungsbezirk Allenstein from where it meets the boundary between east and west Prussia to its junction with the boundary of Oletzko to its junction with the present frontier, and the second in the area comprising the circles of Stuhm and Rosenberg and the parts of the circles of Marienburg and Marienwerder east of the Vistula.

In each case German troops and authorities will move out within fifteen days of the peace and the territories be placed under an international commission of five members appointed by the five allied and associated powers, with the particular duty of arranging for a free, fair and secret vote. The commission will report the results of the plebiscites to the five powers with a recommendation for the boundary and will terminate its work as soon as the boundary has been laid down and the new authorities set up.

Prussia Gets Vistula

The five allied and associated powers will draw up regulations assuring East Prussia full and equitable access to and use of the Vistula. A subsequent convention, of which the terms will be fixed by the five allied and associated powers, will be entered into between Poland, Germany and Danzig, to assure suitable railroad communication across German territory on the right bank of the Vistula between Poland and Danzig, while Poland shall grant free passage from East Prussia to Germany.

Memel to Allies

The northeastern corner of East Prussia about Memel is to be ceded by Germany to the associated powers, the former agreeing to accept the settlement made, especially as regards the nationality of the inhabitants.

Danzig a Free Port

Danzig—Danzig and the district immediately about it is to be constituted into the "free city of Danzig" under the guarantee of the league of nations. A high commissioner appointed by the league and president at Danzig shall draw up a constitution in agreement with the duly appointed representatives of the city and shall deal in the first instance with all differences arising between the city and Poland. The actual boundaries of the city shall be delimited by a commission appointed within six months from the peace and to include three representatives chosen by the allied and associated powers and one each by Germany and Poland.

A convention, the terms of which shall be fixed by the five allied and associated powers, shall be concluded between Poland and Danzig which shall include Danzig within the Polish customs frontiers, though a free area in the port; insure to Poland the free use of all the city's waterways, docks and other port facilities, the control and administration of the Vistula and the whole through railway systems within the city, and postal, telegraphic and telephonic communication between Poland and Danzig, provide against discrimination against Poles within the city and place its foreign relations and the diplomatic protection of its citizens abroad in charge of Poland.

Denmark's Frontier.

Denmark. The frontier between Germany and Denmark will be fixed by the self-determination of the population. Ten days from the peace, German troops and authorities shall evacuate the region north of the line running from the mouth of the Schiel, south of Kappel, Schleswig and Friedrichstadt along the Elbe to the North sea south of Tonning; the workmen's and soldiers' councils shall be dissolved; and the territory administered by an international commission of five, of whom Norway and Sweden shall be invited to name two.

Vote By Zones.

The commission shall insure a free and secret vote in three zones. That between the German-Danish frontier and a line running south of the island of Als, north of Flensburg and south of Tondern to the North sea north of the island of Sylt will vote as a unit within three weeks after the evacuation. Within five weeks after this vote, the second zone whose southern boundary runs from the North sea south of the island of Fehr to the Baltic south of Sygum, will vote by communes. Two weeks after that vote the third zone running to the limit of evacuation also will vote by communes. The international commission will then draw a new frontier on the basis of these plebiscites and with due regard for geographical and economic conditions. Germany will renounce all sovereignty over territories north of this line in favor of the associated governments, who will lead them over to Denmark.

Heligoland to Be Razed.

Heligoland. The fortifications, military establishments and harbours of the islands of Heligoland and Dune are to be destroyed under the supervision of the allies by German labour and at Germany's expense. They may not be reconstructed nor any similar fortifications built in the future.

Recognize Russian Freedom.

Russia. Germany agrees to respect as permanent and inalienable the independence of all territories which were part of the former Russian empire, to accept the abrogation of Brest-Litovsk and other treaties entered into with the Maximist government of Russia, to recognize the full force of all treaties entered into by the allied and associated powers with states which were a part of the former Russian empire, and to recognize the frontiers as determined thereon. The allied and associated powers formally reserve the right or Russia to obtain restitution and reparation of the principles of the present treaty.

SECTION 5, COLONIES.

Section 5. German rights outside Europe. Outside Europe, Germany renounces all rights, titles and privileges as to her own or her allies territories to all the allied and associated powers, and undertakes to accept whatever measures are taken by the five allied powers in relation thereto.

Colonies Given Up.

Colonies and overseas possessions. Germany renounces in favor of the allied and associated powers her overseas possessions with all rights and titles therein. All movable and immovable property belonging to the German empire or to any German state shall pass to the government exercising authority therein. These governments may make whatever provisions seem suitable for the repatriation of German nationals and as to the conditions on which German subjects of European origin shall reside, hold property, or carry on business. Germany undertakes to pay reparation for damage suffered by French nationals in the Cameroons or its frontier zone through the acts of German civil and military authorities and of individual Germans from the first of January, 1900, to the first of August, 1914. Germany renounces all rights under the convention of the fourth of November, 1911, and the twenty-ninth of September, 1912, and undertakes to pay France in accordance with an estimate presented and approved by the repatriation commission all deposits, credits, advances, etc., thereby secured. Germany undertakes to accept and observe any provisions by the allied and associated powers as to the trade in arms and spirits in Africa as well as to the general act of Berlin of 1885 and the general act of Brussels of 1890. Diplomatic protection to inhabitants of former German colonies is to be given by the governments exercising authority.

China will, however, take no measures for disposal of German property in the legation quarter at Peking without the consent of the powers signatory to the Boxer protocol. Germany accepts the abrogation of the concessions at Hankow and Tien Tsin, China agreeing to open them to international use. Germany renounces all claims against China or any allied and associated government for the interest or repatriation of her citizens in China and for the seizure or liquidation of German interests there since August 14, 1917. She renounces in favor of Great Britain her state property in the French concession at Canton and of France and China jointly of the property of the German school in the French concession at Shanghai.

Germany waives all claims against Siam for the seizure and condemnation of her ships, liquidation of her property, or interest of her nationals.

Abrogates Liberia Treaties.

Liberia. Germany renounces all rights under the international arrangements of 1911 and 1912 regarding Liberia, more particularly the right to nominate a receiver of the customs, and disinterests herself in any further negotiations for the rehabilitation of Liberia. She regards as abrogated all commercial treaties and agreements between herself and Liberia and recognizes Liberia's right to determine the status and condition of the re-establishment of Germans in Liberia.

Gives Up Moroccan Rights.

Morocco. Germany renounces all her rights, titles and privileges under the act of Algeiras and the Franco-German agreements of 1909 and 1911 and under all treaties and arrangements with the Sherifian empire. She undertakes not to intervene in any negotiations as to Morocco between France and other powers, accepts all the consequences of the French protectorate and renounces the capitulations. The Sherifian government shall have complete liberty of action in regard to German nationals, and all German protected persons shall be subject to the common law. All movable and immovable German property, including mining rights may be sold at public auction, the proceeds to be paid to the Sherifian government and deducted from the reparation account. Germany is also required to relinquish her interests in the state bank of Morocco. All Moroccan goods entering Germany shall have the same privilege as French goods.

As Regards Egypt.

Egypt. Germany recognizes the British protectorate over Egypt declared on December 18, 1914, and renounces as from August 4, 1914, the capitulation and all the treaties, agreements, etc., concluded by her with Egypt. She undertakes not to intervene in any negotiations about Egypt between Great Britain and other powers. There are provisions for jurisdiction over German nationals and property, and for German consent to any changes which may be made in relation to the commission of public debt. Germany consents to the transfer to Great Britain of the powers given to the late sultan of Turkey for securing the free navigation of the Suez canal. Arrangements for property belonging to German nationals in Egypt are made similar to those in the case of Morocco and other countries. Anglo-Egyptian goods entering Germany shall enjoy the same treatment as British goods.

Accepts Turk Agreement.

Turkey and Bulgaria. Germany accepts all arrangements which the allied and associated powers make with Turkey and Bulgaria with reference to any right, privilege, or interests claimed in those countries by Germany or her nationals and not dealt with elsewhere.

Shantung to Japan.

Shantung. Germany cedes to Japan all rights, titles and privileges, notably as to Kiau Chow, and the railroads, mines and cables, acquired by her treaty with China of March 6, 1897, and other agreements as to Shantung. All German rights to the railroad from Tsingtao to Tsinaufu, including all facilities and mining rights and rights of exploitation, pass equally to Japan, and the cables from Tsingtao to Shanghai and Chefoo, the cables free of all charges. All German state property, movable and immovable in Kiau Chow is acquired by Japan free of all charges.

When this issue of the Evening Telegraph was printed the peace terms were still coming in over the Associated Press leased wire. It was impossible to publish all of the treaty today, so the remainder will be printed tomorrow.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Dixon High school baseball team will go to Paw Paw Saturday where the first team the school has had in a number of years will meet the Paw Paw High school aggregation. Coach Vazina is very enthusiastic in his efforts to get baseball and track events started in the school.

The Junior and Senior Class banquet committees held a meeting Monday evening at which time it was decided to hold the annual banquet at Grand Detour on the 26th.

The Seniors made a little over $100 on their class play, "Under Cover." Willard Countryman and Charles Rowland and their "brides-to-be" were seen at the Family Theater Tuesday evening.

Gerald (Lumberfoot) Barry says that John Young's restaurant is the best in Dixon, since one can go there and get a cup of coffee and a new hat for a dime.

Clarence Vaile is still selling shoes for Henry; and he says they can fit anybody in town except Lumberfoot Barry.

The North Dixon Juniors will give their class play at the opera house Friday evening.

The athletic teams are practicing on the new shoe factory diamond, which is a very good place. William Keenan (light horse) had defeated Tuffy (dark horse) Mannon in the sprint tryouts at the park.

Tax on Soft Drinks is Defined by U. S.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 7.—Regulation for administration of the fifteen per cent tax on "near beer" and other beverages made of cereals, and the ten per cent tax on manufacture of soft drinks, provide that the assessment is against the original manufacturer in the case of near beer, even though he sells to another concern which bottles and sells the product. If the beverage is subjected in the process to any re-making, sales by the second manufacturer also are taxable. The tax is on the manufacturers price, not the retail price.

The tax on soft drinks, as differentiated from soda fountain products, is on unf fermented grape juice, ginger ale, root beer, pop, artificial mineral waters, apple juice, loganberry juice, and other fruit juices. The tax is paid by the manufacturer, and these articles are exempt from soda fountain taxes.

ELKS' PART IN RE-CONSTRUCTION

NEW YORK, May 7.—The first international conference on vocational training for disabled soldiers ever held, has just ended a five-days' session in this city, attended by delegates from France, Belgium, Italy, England, the United States and Canada.

These delegates united in saying that this vocational re-education can be made to attain practically 100 per cent efficiency if the men affected by it can be induced to take up the work and complete it.

In some European countries formal government solicitation alone among these disabled men resulted in inducing only about five per cent of them to enter upon vocational training. So it was found necessary to resort to more personal methods of reaching these disabled men and their families than through formal government proclamations and invitations.

The vocational law passed by the Congress of this country made provisions for this needed personal touch, by authorizing the Federal Board for Vocational Education to arrange with private agencies to aid it in carrying on its work. This has now been accomplished through the cooperative arrangement entered into between the Federal Board and the Order of Elks.

No address made at the international conference attracted more favorable comment from the European delegates than of Joseph T. Fanning, Secretary of the Elks War Relief Commission, telling of the personal, human element the Elks hope to introduce into the government program for vocational education. The foreign delegates declared it is the one element lacking abroad to reach the disabled men and their families in the most effective way.

This vocational training has been going on in Europe for nearly four years, among disabled soldiers. It has been so successful in that field that a movement is already on foot there to extend it into civil walks of life. It was pointed out that the number of wounded war heroes in the United States who will require vocational training will probably be a total of less than 25,000, while there are probably twenty times that number of men in the country disabled by accidents while following their civil pursuits in agriculture, commerce and transportation. It was shown that the economic waste of allowing these men to go through life with less than their full earning capacity is fully as costly to the nation as to the men themselves.

The law passed by Congress on this subject is resulting in a much larger percentage of disabled soldiers taking advantage of the vocational training opportunity than is the case in Europe because it makes provisions for the assistance of private agencies in carrying on the work. The fraternal back of the Order of Elks is giving the Federal Board is expected to result in reaching and interesting practically every disabled man who is entitled to this re-education.

The British delegates to the conference brought with them a convincing exhibit of the work of disabled men who have been vocationally trained in that country. This exhibit included manufactured articles in almost endless variety, produced by men who would be helpless except for this re-education.

The Flow of Meat

Two-thirds of the live stock in the United States has to be raised in the West.

One-half of the consumers of meat live in the East.

In other words, most of the live stock is one or two thousand miles distant from most of the people who need it in the form of food.

Fifty years ago, when live stock was raised close to every consuming center, the country butcher could handle the job after a fashion.

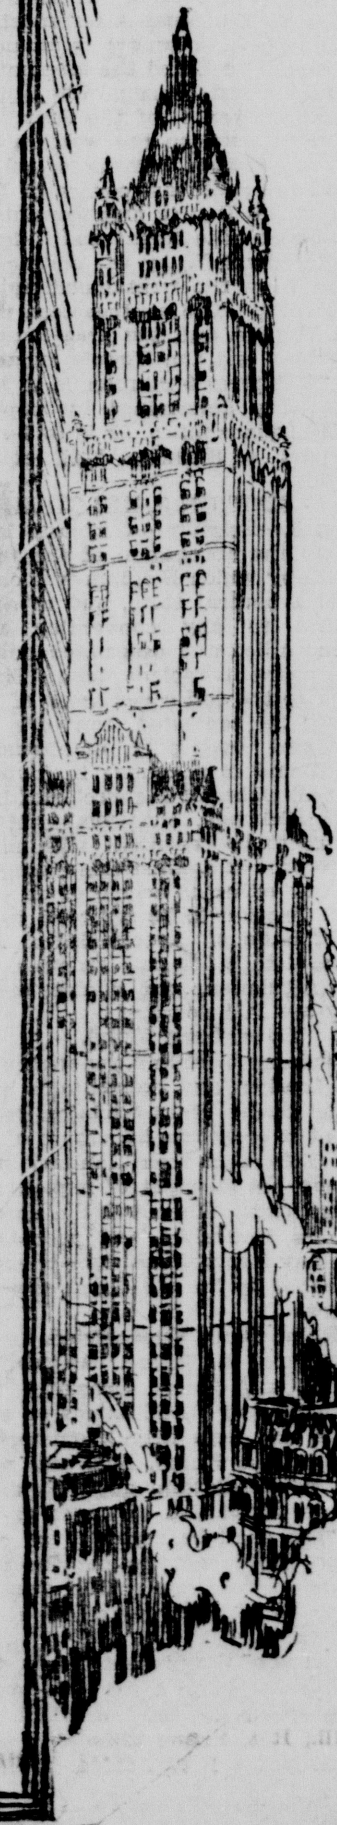

But the job got too big.

Now millions of animals have to be moved hundreds of miles to millions of people. Somewhere on the way they have to be turned into meat.

The packers solved the problem. They set up plants where the "live haul" and the "meat haul" were in the right balance. They eliminated waste. They built up distributing systems—refrigerator cars, refrigerating plants, branch houses. They saved time, money and meat everywhere. The stockraiser benefited in better markets and higher prices; the consumer, in better meat and lower prices.

As the country grew, the packers had to grow, or break down. Because of its present size and efficiency, Swift & Company is able to perform its part in this service at a fraction of a cent per pound profit.

The bride is from Lena, this state, former home of the Kepners, where they have been friends since high school days. Mr. Kepner went to Rochelle about three years ago and put out his shingle as an auctioneer, being first associated with C. E. Gardner in this business. Soon after war was declared Mr. Kepner went to the officers' training camp, where he received the rank of lieutenant and was assigned to the artillery, and served about 18 months, four months of which was on the firing line in France. BAB IS HEARTBROKEN BECAUSE NEIL HAS BEEN DRINKING

CHAPTER LXXXVII.

All my time was spent with Mrs. Carter, but I soon dismissed any idea I might have had of giving any sort of large affairs for her. I contented myself with two or three small dinners, and by taking her to the theater and driving, Neil was at home very little, scarcely more often than before she came. I could see that it was at times an effort for him to concentrate his mind upon what either of us were saying, and I worried accordingly.

I begged him to tell me what he was doing that he could not be more at home, could not give his aunt the attention it seemed his respect for her demanded. He only shrugged, and asked me not to annoy him.

"I have all I can take care of without listening to your reproaches," he said. "I am putting over—trying to rather—a big deal. I can't be worried about Aunt having a good time. You surely should be able to entertain her ideas are very simple."

"It isn't that Neil. She is your aunt, I know. But I am fond of her, and I imagine she feels hurt because you aren't with us more."

"Nonsense!—if you want to bring her down town to the Lawyers' Club for luncheon tomorrow you may. Then you can plan for a matinee or something afterward."

"That will be nice. I am sure she will be pleased to lunch there. I know I always am. We will take Robert for a drive in the park first. She simply refuses to be separated from him and he from her. She told me yesterday that she never thought she could become so fond of a child as she had of him."

"You don't half know how cunning he is, you see so little of him. He is way ahead of his classes; his teacher told me last week she had to hold him back, that he was almost too bright for his age. He speaks French wonderfully well, his accent is much better than mine. I wish mother had made me learn language when I was his age instead of waiting until I was almost a young lady."

"Yes, you can't commence to early." Neil answered but absent-mindedly. That was the way he was now. His mind did not seem to be upon anything I said for more than a moment or two. I longed to beg him to talk to me, to tell me of his work, but did not. When he was trying to float one of his schemes, as he was impatient, nervous, and unlike himself.

There was one thing he had done, rather left undone since his aunt came. Not once had I seen him take a drink, neither had I detected it on his breath. She was absolutely opposed to liquor in any form, and I knew it would pain her greatly should she know that Neil resorted to it, even when worn out nervously, or when in company with men who habitually indulged.

Then one night he came home more nearly drunk than I ever had seen him. It had happened two days before he had proposed we lunch down town with him. He had not come home to dinner, had not come in until about midnight. Fortunately his aunt had just gone to her room. He was noisy and quarrelsome. I had had half hour with him. I was so afraid she would hear him and come down to see what the matter was. Finally I got him to bed, and he soon was sleeping. I was almost heart broken. I never had become accustomed to his taking liquor, even ever so little. And to see him in such a maudlin or quarrelsome condition was degrading for him, and for me.

In the morning he had been very petitent. Had called me a "good girl" because I had kept him from his aunt and from the servants. And had given me his solemn promise never to offend me such an extent again.

"If I do I won't come home," he had added.

"But I far rather you would come home than to let others see you in that condition." I returned. "It is bad enough for me to know it. I should be ashamed indeed if it were publicly known that you could so far forget yourself as to drink too much."

"You make mountains out of molehills, Bab. But don't look so serious. I have promised, haven't I?"

"Yes, dear." But somehow I hadn't the faith in his promises I used to have. But I wouldn't let him see it.

STREET CARS TO LOWELL PARK.

The extension of the state colony paved road and electric line to Lowell Park is a project that Dixon people should keep in mind and further when the opportunity presents. Such an improvement would add greatly to the value of Lowell park to the majority of the citizens.

In Lowell park, Dixon has something that many great cities would spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to attain, if money could provide such a recreation spot. Money, however, cannot duplicate nature to this extent. The wooded hills and moss-hung cliffs, the view commanding lookouts, the natural underbrush and shrubbery, the stretches of open lawn, the river and the natural grandeur of Lowell combine to make the park an ideal outing place and an inspiration to the thousands of people who visit it frequently, from all over northern Illinois.

The people of Dixon—the taxpayers
keep it up, and they are glad to do it.
They are appreciating more every year how valuable Lowell is. But not until an easier and cheaper means of reaching the park is provided will the people who pay for its up-keep be able to enjoy its full benefits.

The electric line to the state colony grounds now runs to within a short distance of the edge of the park. The distance intervening is too great to be covered on foot, however, and there is at present no public highway running direct to the park from the end of the car line. The expense of a right of way from the end of the Hazelwood road to the boundary of the park would not be great nor would the improvement of such a highway and the extension of the street car line be great in comparison to the public good.

ference adopted the proposal that all Russian factions meet on the Princes Islands to discuss the Russian situation.
Nothing ever came of the proposal.
Three days later the conference ordered fighting over the disputed territory to cease.

League Plan Adopted
The plan for a league of nations was conferred in by the conference on Jan.
24 and a committee was appointed to draw up a covenant. Discussion in the supreme council or council of ten which included two representatives from Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the United States then turned to the form of the future government of territory freed from enemy rule and on Jan.
30 the conference accepted the plan of mandatories for colonies and backward nations.

Wilson Speaks for League
On February 14 the league of nations commission reported the covenant it had prepared. President Wilson left Brest on Feb. 15 on his return to the United States. He arrived at Boston on Feb. 24 and, after explaining the league covenant and making several speeches, started on his return to France on March 5 and reached Brest on March 13. Meanwhile the work of the council of ten had continued except for the interruption incident to the attempt to assassinate Premier Clemenceau on Feb.
19.

Council of Four
The various commissions of the conference continued their labor until interrupted. On March 26 in order to speed up the work the council of ten was broken up in two bodies, a council of four and a council composed of foreign ministers. The council of four was composed of Premiers Orlando, Clemenceau, Lloyd George and President Wilson.

Wilson Threatens Break
A furore in conference circles was created on April 7 when President Wilson summoned the transport George Washington to come to Brest at once and it was reported the president intended to return home.

A statement on reparations and foreign questions it was reported at the time, was believed to have prompted his action.

On April 11 at a plenary session the conference adopted the report of the international labor legislation committee and on April 14, the reparation demands to be made on Germany were announced. On April 16 the Germans were invited to send delegates to receive the treaty.

Dispute Over Fiume
With the German treaty near completion the question of Italy's claims in the Adriatic came to the front. On April 23 President Wilson issued a statement that Fiume could not belong to Italy.
The Italian delegation announced its intention of leaving Paris and on April 24 Premier Orlando started for Rome.
Scarcely had he departed than the van-guards of the German delegation reached Versailles on April 25 to be followed on April 30 by the principal delegates.
Previously the Germans had expressed the intention of sending "messengers" to receive the treaty but finally were compelled to send delegates with full powers.

In the absence of the Italian delegates the conference on April 28 adopted the revised covenant of the league of nations. Geneva was selected as the seat of the league and Sir Eric Drummond of Great Britain was made first secretary-general.

Japan Gets Shantung
On April 30 the council of three reached an agreement on the question of Shantung which gave the territory to the Japanese who are to turn it over to the Chinese.

The first meeting with the Germans took place on May 1 when credentials were exchanged at Versailles.

On Monday it was announced that Premier Orlando and the other Italian delegates were returning to Paris in time for the handing of the peace treaty to the Germans.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Jerseyville, Ill., May 7.—Dr. Horace
A. Reddish, under arrest charged with the murder of his wealthy father, Stephen M. Reddish, was brought here from Alton today and probably will be given a preliminary hearing this afternoon or alibi that he slept with an uncle in St.

Louis every night for three weeks prior to the finding of the body April 30th.

Little Interest in Heavyweight Fight

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, May 7.—The Willard-Dampsey heavyweight championship bout scheduled for July 4, at Toledo, was the one topic of discussion among eastern fight followers during the past twenty-four hours. While there is evidence of a wide difference of opinion regarding the outcome there is no record of wagering at this time.
Those who take more than a passing interest in ring affairs find it difficult to reconcile the idea of a heavyweight championship battle with the twelve round contest which it is proposed to stage on the shores of Lake Erie.

Freight Traffic is Less Since End of War, Hines Reports

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., May 7.—Falling off of freight traffic this year owing to slowing down of war time manufacturing is shown by a report just issued by Director General Hines in connection with his explanation of the government deficit of $192,000,000 in operation of railroads for the first three months of the year.

In March the railroads recorded 28,452,000 "ton miles" as compared with 27,706,000,000 in March 1918. "A ton mile" represents the hauling of one ton one mile, and is a traffic unit. In February the roads hauled 25,681,000,000 ton miles, as compared with 29,387,000,000 in the same month last year, and in January they hauled 30,383,000,000, or more than the 27,619,000,000 of January, 1918.

"It is impossible on the basis of these months to predict the results for the year as a whole," said Mr. Hines, in a statement "although it is believed the results will be very much less unfavorable if, as seems to be generally anticipated there shall be an important resumption of business later in the year, especially if the great crops now in prospect shall be realized."

When the Burdicks first went over they had to improvise their own ovens, later being supplied with army rations. They worked principally in the Text sector.

'Pa' and 'Ma' Burdick Visit Chicago Today
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 7.—Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Burdick, "Pa" and "Ma" to thousands of the American doughboys—are in Chicago today and will be guests of honor at a reception tonight. The doughnut king and queen of the Salvation Army have been overseas nearly two years at work among the A. E. F. and they leave a daughter who is still working among the overseas soldiers and a son who has just returned to resume his old position as a letter carrier in their home town of Houston, Texas.

When the Burdicks first went over they had to improvise their own ovens, later being supplied with army rations. They worked principally in the Text sector.

German Ammunition Dump Blows Up; 600 Captives Endangered

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Brussels, Tuesday, May 6.—(Delayed)—A depot of German ammunition containing shells and bombs of every calibre and many gas shells has been exploded since yesterday morning at the railway station at Groenendael, six miles south of Brussels, where Canadian troops were inspected by King Albert eight days ago. The depot has been under guard of 150 Belgian soldiers and 600 German prisoners have been at work near it. It is believed there are many killed and wounded but the number of victims will not be known for several days.

It is reported that while workmen were unloading a wagon filled with shells a detonator exploded in the hands of a German prisoner setting fire to the ammunition boxes. After the explosion these German prisoners broke the camp and fled in all directions through the woods. Only 150 have been arrested since. The explosions are clearly heard in Brussels and may continue for days.

More than half of the expeditionary force has now left France, Mr. Baker said, and as the withdrawal progresses facilities which were used for those forces are being turned back either to private owners or to the municipalities to which they belonged.

Thomas Guyon left today for Marquette, Wis., to spend a few days transacting business.
